

Eco Club

Faculty of Medical Sciences, Lebanese University (FM-LU)

Mission

The mission of the Eco Club of the Faculty of Medical Sciences, Lebanese University (FM-LU) is to rally the students and academic and administrative staff members around the environmental cause. Its goal is to create a cohesive, enthusiastic and dynamic core community that implements sustainable initiatives to generate and enhance environment awareness and green practices in the faculty, on campus, and in the society at large. Beyond the environmental cause, it is a forum for cooperative, extra-curricular activities where all members share a common concern and invest their skills, expertise, time and talents to serve their community.

Vision

the Eco Club will be the driver of the FM-LU towards a green environment, by organizing awareness campaigns, by encouraging waste reduction, especially paper and single-use plastic, and by implementing waste sorting at the faculty. It will coordinate with Eco-Clubs of the other faculties to spread environmental awareness and practice in the University. It will also be socially engaged by getting actively involved in environmental activities in local communities.

Suggested activities

- * Gain and spread awareness about the importance of green practices on campus (waste reduction, waste sorting...) and good practical habits
- * Gain and spread awareness about the impact of waste mismanagement on health and the importance and feasibility of supporting healthy, environmentally sound solutions
- * Install sorting bins and educate fellow students and staff on proper sorting practice
- * Find and implement solutions to reduce paper consumption at the faculty
- * Participate in social environmental activities: conferences, fairs, parades etc...

Eco Club Faculty of Medical Sciences Lebanese University

Mission

The mission of the Eco Club of the Faculty of Medical Sciences, Lebanese University (FM-LU) is to rally the students and academic and administrative staff members around the environmental cause. Its goal is to create a cohesive, enthusiastic and dynamic core community that implements sustainable initiatives to generate and enhance environment awareness and green practices in the faculty, on campus, and in the society at large. Beyond the environmental cause, it is a forum for cooperative, extra-curricular activities where all members share a common concern and invest their skills, expertise, time and talents to serve their community.

Vision

the Eco Club will be the driver of the FM-LU towards a green environment, by organizing awareness campaigns, by encouraging waste reduction, especially paper and single-use plastic, and by implementing waste sorting at the faculty. It will coordinate with Eco-Clubs of the other faculties to spread environmental awareness and practice in the University. It will also be socially engaged by getting actively involved in environmental activities in local

