Jonathan Swift to Esther Vanh

September 1, 1707

ST. JAMES'S COFFEE-H

MADAM,

It is the hardest thing As for me, all who other people will
A gentleman
answered
had been acting
my f

Robert Browning to Eli

January 10, 1845

I love your verses with hand, complacentiary k
master-of-course rea
natural end of the th I do, as I say, love y
you know I was o Kenyon said to I
then, he went to oneself—and in thy travels
charged or ct
there was bar to ask thousan
Well, I
asked

Letter written by Ernest Hemingway

My dear Bill: I have been wanting to write you for a long time but I have been so damned busy and lonesome that I just couldn't. I am still in Milan and I am still working in the Red Cross. I have been working very hard getting along very well. I have made a lot of friends and about the Italian people. I have been seeing Ag a lot and I have been very much in love with her. She is so beautiful and have known her. She is the most wonderful girl I have ever met and I am so happy that I have met her. She is everything that I have ever wanted and so intelligent. She is everything and everything else be I am very much in love with her and she is my everything. I forget and so intelligent about my religion and she is my religion and she loves me. I am I have forgotten about my religion and she loves me. I am in love with h to worship. She is my religion and I know that she loves me. I am in love with h more than I can ever say and I know that we will have I have met her and I am so happy that I am in love with her and I know that we will be happy together and I know that we will be happy together. I am writing this letter to you because I wan we will be happy together and I know that we will be happy together. I am writing this letter to you because I wan together. I am writing this letter to you because I want you to know how much I love Ag and how much I am in love with her. I am very much I love Ag and how much I am in love with her. I am very much I love Ag and how much I am in love with her. I am very

Fortune Scrolls - Take one (tag us and let us know what you got) @theliteracylair.bc
HAMLET
TAG US IN YOUR PICTURES
FROM OUR BOOTH

Layla
WANTED
$10 000

Robert Browning to Elizabeth Barrett
I love your verses with all my heart Miss Barrett... and I love you too.
— Robert

books are the mirrors of the soul I lived in books more than I lived anywhere else

little me
books are the mirrors
of the soul
be kind to yourself I'm a lilac and you are my sun Burdens are for shoulders
strong enough to carry them.
I lived in books
more than I lived
anywhere
else